Transition Service	Annual Goal
By the end of the IEP, the student will research and identify three possible careers.	LEA will invite and assist the family in applying with the Department of Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities.
Given that Jeremy wants to attend community college after high school, when provided instruction on writing a letter of intent, Jeremy will independently develop a 5 paragraph essay explaining his desire to attend college, his major, and his work ethic with no punctuation or spelling errors as measured by teacher evaluation every other week.	During Maggie's junior year, Maggie will complete a self-determination course to better understand her strengths and areas of improvement so that she can communicate her desires, interests, and preferences during her IEP meeting and to upcoming agencies.
Ja'Vaughn will draft a resume and cover letter as well as thank you note for after interviews.	Erica will fill out paperwork necessary to begin receiving services from Vocational Rehabilitation.
Emily will complete 8 th grade transition requirements by completing a formal transition assessment, completing a student interest questionnaire, and attending her IEP meeting as measured by teacher observation.	Given an instructional level reading probe, Monique will correctly read 140 WCPM with no more than 2 errors as measured by weekly progress monitoring probes to prepare her for college entrance exams.
Johnathan will be prepared for future expectations and responsibilities by bringing his supplies to class.	During the current IEP, Dakari will attend a college fair to explore the entrance requirements and to choose a college to apply for.
Given a current bus schedule and destination, Alison will arrive on time to the destination for 8 consecutive bus trips as measured by teacher shadow/observation.	Given a checkbook register, Lori will be able to add and subtract quantities of money with 95% accuracy measured bi-weekly by teacher created math probe.
Jessica will go with the school system to get a bus pass and a current bus schedule.	On the WBL Career Exploration field trip, Lori will complete the application open a checking account.
